Transport costs for Sunnyfield Shared Living residents

20 September 2026

The National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) does not cover transport expenses for participants as part of Supported Independent Living (SIL) funding for group home accommodation.

Under the NDIS transport costs are to be covered by all individuals.

NDIS participants are generally able to access funding through the NDIS for transport assistance and participants can utilise this allowance to help subsidise some of their transport costs. It is not expected to cover all their transport costs.

At Sunnyfield we will always endeavour to facilitate transport arrangements for Shared Living residents by providing a shared vehicle for use in the local community. To cover running costs for the shared vehicle there is a fixed contribution of $2,676* per year for Sunnyfield Shared Living residents.

Sunnyfield transport contribution

Sunnyfield charges a fortnightly transport contribution towards the annual operating costs for a shared vehicle provided by Sunnyfield for the use of residents and utilised for transport in the local community. This is a fixed cost that is subsidised by Sunnyfield and is not dependent on the volume of weekly usage or occasional absence i.e. holidays or weekends away.

What if I don't receive the NDIS Transport Allowance?

Sunnyfield reserves the right to review and evaluate circumstances on a case by case basis.

If you are not able to cover the fortnightly transport contribution, alternative transport arrangements may need to be made.

How much is the transport contribution?

The fortnightly transport contribution is $102.62*
